REPORT OF BOARD OF HEALTH

The town has been practically free from preventable diseases, since our last report, with the exception of three isolated cases of diphtheria, which were conducted in a manner that prevented any secondary cases.

The Board have repeatedly discussed the propriety of compelling all persons having cows that furnish milk, for local public use, to have them tested. But they have refrained from issuing such orders, not wishing to be too arbitrary on account of the expense entailed for testing and the loss to the owners for those condemned. Thus, we have inserted an article in the Town Warrant, providing for same, and obtaining the expression and support of the town. The importance of this subject cannot be overestimated, for the prevention of tubercular troubles, especially in the young. Tuberculosis is a preventable disease, and the time is not far distant when the state will require an examination of all animals intended for food and milk production and a rigid quarantine of tuberculous patients. "Eternal vigilance is the price of sanitation."

This report is rendered with a feeling of deep regret on account of the death of Mr. Lovell, who was such an efficient adviser and worker in the sanitary interests of the town, especially the disinfecting and bacteriological part of the work. Always prompt in furnishing state supplies for the physicians. His loss will be deeply felt.

Faithfully submitted,

(Absent) J. LEAVITT CAIN, M. D., ARTHUR C. BRADLEY, CARLTON HURD, } Board of Health.

SELECTMEN'S STATEMENT.

As shown by the foregoing statement $1,098.00 of unexpended money, set apart in 1905 by law of the state for the permanent improvement of the highways, should have been reckoned as a liability of the town, and the State Treasurer ordered the Selectmen to so consider it in the statement, reporting the financial standing of the town, thus making a large difference in the debt statement of the two years. To meet the expense of the state road no more was raised for highways than for the previous year, and $3,529.50 raised has gone into that work. The unprecedented shower last July damaged the highways and bridges in town greatly, and more than $2,400.00 extra has been expended on highways and bridges on that account. The exact sum would be hard to determine, as other work was done with the special repairs. The cement culvert near the Sunapee line cost for materials and labor $185.00. This with the expense of four iron bridges and new abutments for the same and steel floor joists for the bridge on Main street, has made the highway bill the largest on record in this town. The amount of money set apart for permanent improvements on highways has all been expended this year.

SUMMARY STATEMENT

For the year ending Feb. 15, 1907:

Receipts from water rents,	$5,962 91
" service pipe account,	353 14
" miscellaneous accounts,	357 46
Total cash receipts,		$6,673 51
Interest paid on $50,000 four per cent. bonds,	$2,000 00
" $20,000 three " "	600 00
For maintenance and repairs,	1,082 36
For construction of mains and house connections,	1,282 44
Total amount expended during the year,		$4,964 80
Net income to the town,		$1,708 71

If to the $1,708 71 net income as shown above there be added $571 84 (increased cost of the system as shown on page one and paid for out of the current receipts) it would give as the net income to the town for the year ending Feb. 15, 1907, $2,280 55

The foregoing figures show the cash receipts have been sufficient to pay interest charges on all outstanding liabilities; also for the construction of mains and house connections, and all expense of maintenance and repairs for the year, and leaves a balance in favor of the town on account of the system of seventeen hundred and eight dollars and seventy one cents ($1,708 71), while the town gets the water it uses for hydrant service, flushing sewers, school buildings, town hall, engine house, watering troughs, Maple Street cemetery and street sprinkling free.

SCHOOL REPORT

To the Honorable School Board of the Town of Newport:

During the year that has passed since the last report there have been several notable changes in the organization of the schools.

In accordance with the vote of the town at its annual school meeting, your board has established and maintained in the primary building a public Kindergarten. Acting on the principle that no school would be satisfactory except a good one, you engaged a thoroughly trained Kindergartener in the person of Miss Helen E. Childs, who, with the aid of Mrs. Arthur S. Rowell has conducted a successful school from the opening of the school year September 12, 1906, to the present time, a period of twenty weeks. The salaries of the two teachers for this time aggregate eleven and one-half dollars per week. The total expense for supplies during the same time has been a little less than twenty dollars.

The following table indicates the attendance:

	First Month	Second Month	Third Month	Fourth Month
Whole number of pupils	22	31	31	31
Boys	12	19	19	19
Girls	10	12	12	12
Average daily attendance	22	22	16	16
Per cent. of attendance	.83	.71	.52	.53

In the schools outside the village, the length of the school year has been increased to the same number of weeks (36) that obtain in the village. In these mixed but still graded schools the pupils are pursuing the same course of study as in the village. They have been still further strengthened by the retention of the same teachers, who have constantly before them the idea that their pupils are being fitted to continue their education in the higher grade of schools supported by the town. In the grade schools in the village there are attending four pupils from North Newport, three from Kelleyville and one from the Reed district.

In the high school, there are four from North Newport, two from Kelleyville and three from Guild. The influence that this number of pupils will exert upon those in their home disirict is sure to bring an increasing supply to the secondary school and will have a tendency to extend the desire for a more advanced education than the schools of the district can supply. It is a hopeful sign too, that the number is diversified throughout the town rather than being concentrated in one place. There are also, at this writing ten non-resident pupils attending the high school who pay tuition at the rate of eighteen dollars per year. I suggest that as early as you deem advisable, that this rate for new pupils be raised to a sum more in accordance with the cost and more commensurate with the advantages derived.

Through the efforts of Prin. F. D. Hayward and his assistants, there has been a marked advance in the scholastic ability of the students in the high school. This advance is not confined to a few, but is general, and can be shown to be true by the increased number who advance from one year's work to another with a smaller percentage of failures. The aim of all the teachers being the same and the harmony with which they work have been contributing factors. A third and important reason has been the increased facilities afforded for individual work in the subject of physics. When this development as planned is fully completed, except in the opportunity for experimental work in botany and zo-ology, the school will be better equipped than most and not far behind, if at all, the best.

A fourth reason for this general uplift has been three visits of the State Superintendent to the schools of the town. Every community supporting a school would certainly derive great benefit if there could be an annual inspection of its schools by that officer or his representative who should report to the town the condition of every secondary school approved as such. Through your assistance two institutes for the teachers of Sullivan County and adjoining towns have been held. I include the program for both meetings for two reasons. First, because the pupils of the high school sustained very creditably a prominent part, and second, that they might be preserved in permanent form for future reference.

The changes in the corps of teachers have been less than might have reasonably been expected when we consider their worth and what is demanded of them.

Miss Pearl V. Copeland of the high school force resigned Dec. 24, '06, to accept a more lucrative position in Maynard, Mass., Miss Flora M. Greenough, ninth grade, resigned at the close of the spring term. Miss Clydie M. Flanders resigned during the summer to accept a more remunerative position in Manchester, N. H.

These positions were filled by the election of Miss Constance Robinson of Providence to the vacancy in the high school, by the transfer of Miss Grace A. Reed from the principalship of the primary building to the ninth grade, by the transfer of Miss Lena Rowell from the fourth grade to the principalship of the same building, by the election of Miss Grace A. Graves to the fourth grade and Miss Virginia W. Belknap to the second. While three teachers resigned, but two new teachers were employed, as Miss Graves, on account of the large numbers in the fourth and fifth grades, had been for sometime employed as an assistant.

It is a matter of great regret that a teacher so successful as Miss Copeland could not have been retained. We expect, however, that her successor, with her extensive preparation, will carry on the work successfully. Your committee, recognizing the fact that other and larger communities were increasing the salaries of their teachers, so far as they had the power and the necessary funds, raised the salaries of the teachers in the suburban schools and in the primary building to eight and nine dollars per week. While I know it was all you could, at that time, do, it did not include the teachers of higher grades who were doing equally satisfactory work. This condition is not confined to Newport alone but is national, and includes the questions of salary, tenure of office and certification of teachers.

The early universality of teachers made them common, and caused their product to be considered cheap. Coincident with the intellectual progress of the world, which has been extraordinary in the last half century, has come the increasing professional qualifications. This fact is understood by but a limited number in most communities. The result is that the scholarship of the teacher is underrated and the value of his instruction is not fully appreciated by those who provide the money. By natural economic principles, teachers will not teach for less than they are willing to live upon. Boards cannot secure teachers for lower salaries than those which afford these standards of living. It ought to be the ambition of communities to give their teachers the most they can afford to pay, and not require those who train their children to live on the least for which they can he secured. We sympathize with teachers who feel that an increased salary will result in their discharge. Any legislation along this line should arrange for the continuance in service of those who have been before approved and who are engaged professionally in the work. New requirements should apply to beginners and to those who require higher positions. State certification is not yet required but your teachers have made considerable advance in several subjects to meet this demand, should it come.

Throughout the fall teachers' meetings have been held weekly and all have made considerable progress in the professional subjects of school management, history of education, school laws and civil government. I trust that many of them will avail themselves of the opportunity to take the state's examination upon these and the subjects which they teach at the next opportunity. Should there be no change in the state law this may be done in Newport under the direction of an examiner appointed by the state superintendent. Unfortunately, the rewards of the profession have not attracted to the tasks of education the strongest and best men and women of today. We should not forget, however, that there is no person of any considerable value from ocean to ocean who is not the product of teachers. I realize that you and this community which you represent, desire the best and, I believe, are willing to make a strong effort to obtain it.

In conclusion I can only repeat the idea of a year ago, that while it has been a year of work, it has been a year of highly gratifying work.

Respectfully submitted,

F. S. SUTCLIFFE.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD

To the Voters of the Newport School District:

Your Board of Education herewith submit their annual report, and it is a pleasure to them to be able to state that the schools are all in first-class condition; that there has been perfect harmony during the year among teachers and pupils and a unity of action by the teachers, which has been a great benefit to the schools, and demonstrates the wisdom of our supervisory district system and the fortunate selection of a Superintendent.

During the year the schoolhouse at Kelleyville has been newly shingled and new sills placed under a portion of it, which leaves it in good condition excepting there should be new and larger windows.

During the summer vacation the walls and ceilings of the Richards building were newly tinted throughout, the first general repairing which has been done in the building since it was built and which places it in first class condition.

In the fall it was found that the flues in the boilers at the Richards building were weak and it became necessary to have new ones installed in order that they might be run with safety, which was done at an expense of a trifle over three hundred and fifty dollars, which accounts for so large an outlay in repairs during the year.

At the beginning of the school year it was found necessary to provide school accommodation for the pupils in the Gould district. The Board was obliged to consider the welfare of the pupils, the condition of the building, really unfit for use, and the uncertainty of the number of scholars who would permanently attend. An arrangement was made with Mrs. Page to convey the scholars to the North Newport school at five dollars per week.

In those districts where the number of pupils is small the advantages of the village schools could be easily obtained by transferring them to town at much less expense than now obtains, besides giving the pupils the benefits of mingling with a larger number of pupils. This method would undoubtedly have the effect of having more pupils from those sections enter and receive the benefits of an high school education, a condition certainly to be encouraged.
